MeHome ZETA0

More. Now.

The MeHome Zeta0 is MeMoreTV's next-generation flagship device. We knew MeMoreTV's new Triple Play Classic service called for a true leap forward in home streaming, gaming, and live-streaming. That's where the MeHome Zeta0 comes in. Boasting double-output MeSync visuals, 5 hard drives, an extra large camera, and the latest MeChasm PinDrop-HD VoidRoomRecording Dual-Omnidirectional Microphone Technology—this is the ultimate multimedia machine—and it's all tailored especially for the new MeMoreTV Triple Play Classic service. Each MeHome Zeta0 comes ready-packed with a MeMoreTV Triple Play Classic subscription, allowing gamers, streamers, and watchers everywhere to dive in on day one. These user accounts will be preloaded with the MeHome Zeta Plus Pack Triple Play Classic Limited Edition Bundle, which includes our next-gen game lineup of titles such as Airport Bathroom Simulator 2023, Doldin's Pillar, Do My Tasks Medieval Home Edition, Machine Legacy: Pulse of Darkness, and more.

Q & A CORNER

*Q: Wait hold on,
SkeletonRealm.org is LIVE?*

A: Yes. After typing "SkeletonRealm.org" into your preferred browser and hitting "enter" or clicking "go", you WILL be directed to a functioning LIVE webpage created by Skeleton Realm to showcase their content. The site is a landing place for THIS zine as well as a home for the Skeleton Realm shop where you can buy incredible Skeleton Realm products.

*Q: Gee... sounds too good to be true.
Ok - so what's the catch?*

A: No catch. Relax. Sometimes life really is THAT good. You need to stop catastrophizing and let yourself get excited. We DO live in a world where SkeletonRealm.org can exist freely and is accessible. It's OK - I know you've been through a lot and it's hard for you to accept that maybe things ARE going your way for once. But trust me, they ARE, and there is no catch. I love you.

HOW TO BEAT SAYMIN

Colton Benning, Freelance Tip Writer

Doldin's Pillar has proved to be not just a commercial success for MeMoreTV, but an achievement in video games that all players can benefit from. Boasting 700 hours of gameplay, 10,000 quest lines, over 2 years of recorded dialog, and a worldmap size equivalent to the West Bank, the fantasy action RPG developed by BingBong Games and published by MeMoreTV's MePlay West is already a critically acclaimed classic.

Among Doldin Pillar's six unique biomes are thousands of NPC's with their own procedurally generated schedules, desires and property. But along with the shopkeepers, royal guards, tanners, and adventurers there are an incredible variety of hostile NPC's. Although the player can befriend, coerce, or ally most NPC's in the world, there is one boss who cannot be bargained with: Saymin.

Saymin is a bogdweller assassin mystic who rules over the bogtropolis in eastern Korlip named Sacksythe. The player can only access this area after assembling each lost piece of Master's Mantel. Upon arrival to Sacksythe, you will be greeted or attacked, depending on your average Karm level with the bogdweller clans.

Whichever way you explore the town, you'll eventually come across the entryway to Saymin's royal shack. Get ready, because once you enter, the fight begins. I was surprised to find that Saymin is totally unbeatable, and after 12 failed attempts, I can safely say the boss simply cannot be killed. His jump attacks are undodgeable and I can never block at the right time when he attacks with his sword. I tried using Mithiff's Bladder but it doesn't last long enough and Saymin just kills me again. I've heard some people claim they have beat him, but it's obvious they're not telling the truth.

Although this is frustrating, I respect BingBong's vision of making a game's first unbeatable boss and applaud their boldness.

Cherry Blossom Swagger

This year, the Skeleton Realm team went down to Macon, Ga to check out the annual Cherry Blossom festival and to spread awareness of MeMoreTV's new Triple Play Classic system. We felt honored to have been able to meet Smokin' Joe Lasher outside his truck, Pimp the Pink Poodle, Steve Phillips, and Jerry Brown, along with his entire family! Can't wait for next year!

UH—OH!

UH—OH!

It's getting WORSE!

How bad could it get? We're getting closer to learning the answer to this exciting question, and you may have noticed the powerful effect this has had in recent weeks. Strangers wandering into traffic, slaughtered by massive vehicles, your coworkers staring into their mugs, drooling and unblinking for hours at a time, beloved family members trembling and moaning at the breakfast table, the dead skin of their gnawed nailbeds curling back like the decades old paint on the shed in which this same bloved family member would store his Intext 10' pool cover. But that shed's been left unlocked and the pool uncovered. Everyone's got the same thing on their mind: "Is it getting worse?!" It seems our suffering is coming to a head, and therefore it'll also be coming to an end. Champagne bottles are being hauled by the trainload to the final gathering, set for a "TBD" date—which is not helping your friends contain their anticipation. Patience! You'll be split down the middle like a log!

BATH MASTERS RISE UP?

By L.K. Bleichner

I appeal to you - all who clean the body, as a civilized man (or woman) should: we must no longer stand beneath the spray. We must only soak. In the past, the knowledge of the dangers of partaking in The Spray was kept well hidden, but with the advent of the internet, and the inevitable disgrace of the Spraying Man's Master, many now have access to the knowledge that only by soaking can a man (or lady) truly keep clean and well. You see, Spray Man made a most profitable deal with the keeper of the pipes. He ensured that piping must rise above the head in order that the Spray might be rained down upon the heads of those seeking to be clean. This was the beginning of the Spray Age.

With this arrangement, the secrets of The Bath and all of its ancient glory, were lost to modern man (and womanfolk). Not only was the former glory lost, but with this New Spray came a host of ailments, both physical and spiritual. We descended into the Dark Sprayer's Era.

In the coming days and months, I hope to educate all that might be ready in the knowledge and way of The Bath Masters. I do hope and pray that many might follow along. Be well, bathers.
