Home Sweet Kiosk...

Bertrand's Outdoor Kiosks provide much more than a space for gathering, playing, and recieving items. They provide that unforgettable, yet simplest ingredient which makes a home a "home" - portability.

I don't want to do any of this st. I'm tired of doing bullst. I don't get paid for this st. I'm fd. My life is f*d. Fk this. I'm absolutely and completely demoralized. Someone take a massive fing hammer and smack me in the head as hard as they can. I can't handle this st anymore. I don't get paid even close enough to do half the bullst I am doing currently. I am both overwhelmed with tasks and chronically bored all at once. Every year it's the same st. Nothing happens, just more bullst. The only thing that stays the same is that I don't get paid enough for the st I don't get paid enough for

Wednesday Commute

Be as late as possible!

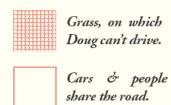

Doug >

It's Wednesday, so it's time to go LIVE! But first, the individuals who go live must become going to the place in which they end up being live.

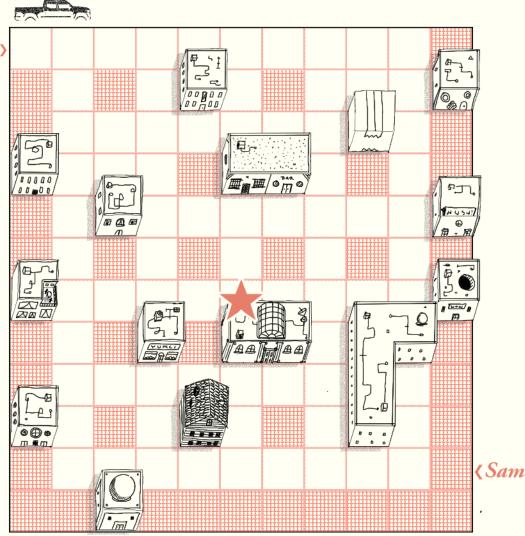

Doug and Sam are on opposite sides of town, and must get to the studio (*) at the same exact time (or else their keys to get in don't work.) Doug is driving a car and Sam is sprinting on foot, so Doug is faster. The LATER the BETTER!

Rules:

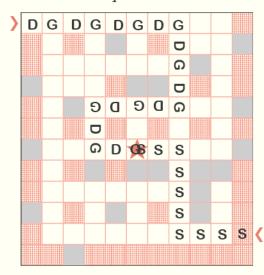

- Doug and Sam must get to the studio * at the same time (same number of moves).
- Doug's car moves twice as fast (takes up two tiles) and can't do 180's.
- Doug can't drive on grass.
- No one can pass through buildings.
- Paths can't overlap (snake style) until the goal ★.
- No diagonal moves.

Example Solution:

Being The Best:

The example to the left shows the fastest solution, which is 10 moves. This means doug and Sam got to the studio at 8pm—TOO EARLY!

The later you get the better. If you really need to, you can think of each move as taking 10 minutes:

10 moves = 8:00pm

12 moves = 8:20pm

14 moves = 8:40 pm

etc.

ISM DOWN WITH TAYLOR SWIFT TO PRODUCE SWIFT TO

Swift facts:

Winner of 11 Grammy Awards

First female solo artist to win the Album of the Year Grammy twice

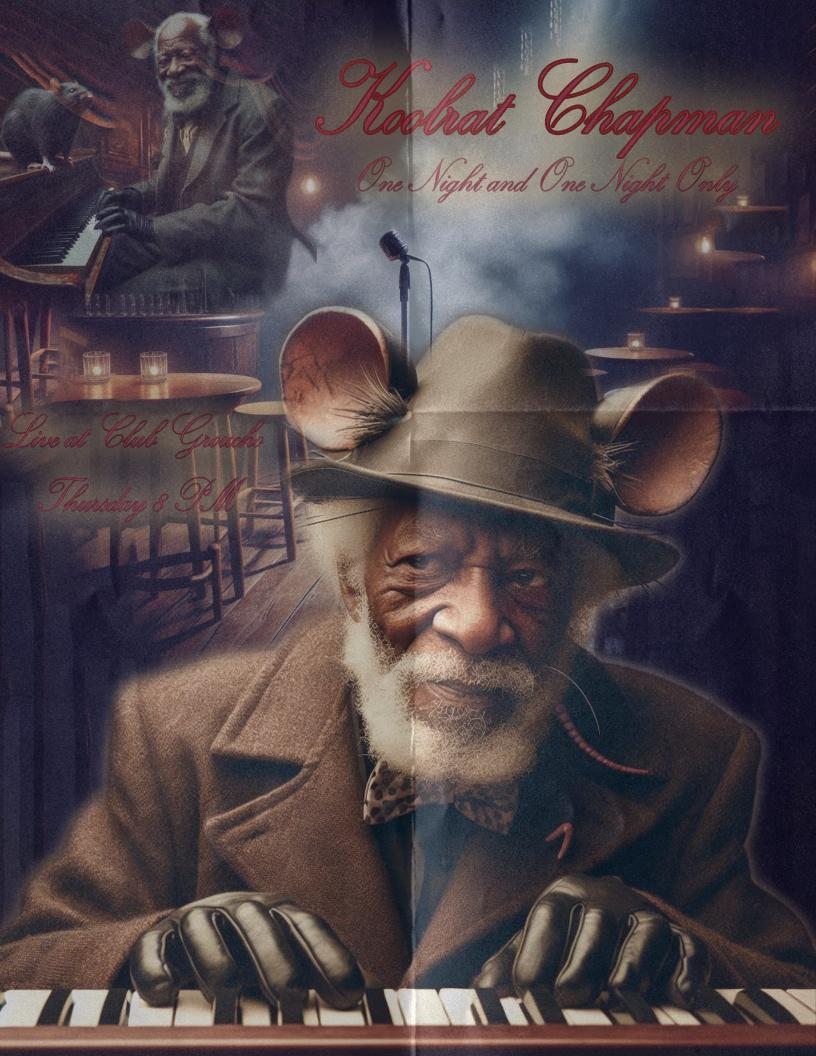

Known for her philanthropic efforts, including donations to education and disaster relief

Love is such a complex emotion," she began, "but it's also the most beautiful one." Sitting across from Taylor Swift, it's easy to understand how she's captivated the hearts of millions, if not billions, of fans around the world. As we spoke on a bustling May afternoon in Manhattan's Chelsea neighborhood, each answer dripped with charisma and warmth. When asked about her newest boy toy she smiled and looked down with a smirk before answering, "I'm trying to make all beautiful animals go extinct."

While most know Swift as the undisputed Queen of Pop music and a frequent contributor to both the top 40 and folk genre, Taylor began music very much as a pure country singer. "I've done surgeries," she remarked, staring out the window at a bustling 7th avenue, "I'm also the final say for all new SNL cast members. Most people don't know that. They think all I do is go from relationship to relationship and burn fossil fuels jetsetting around the country. It's agonizing being this misunderstood. I hate this planet and all of you bugs."

My heart dropped looking down at the clock as I realized our time was nearly over, I was about to step out of the addictive glow that is her celebrity. "You can't fully capture the concept of 'love' in a song. Believe me, I've tried!" Taylor quipped, dabbing the sides of her mouth as she finished her last slice of pizza, "I have ChatGPT installed in my brain and whenever I'm not talking I'm making all sorts of outlines and writing reports on Thomas Jefferson or whatever. I can do anything in here," she chirped, pushing her fingernail into her temple until a spot of rosy red blood began to bloom. "I took down Vine, it was too funny," she said, nearly under her breath as she walked out into a mid afternoon sun that seemed to exist only with her permission, "The format was just too good."

Orbland Gardens' New Sunken Orb Pillar Sensorium Review By Skele.Scholar

Yes, you heard that right. Orbland Gardens has unveiled their new system of showcasing their chrome-styled orbs in a way that has never been done before! This new exhibit seeks to answer the question on everyone's minds: if an orb was on a pillar in a room with other orbs on pillars with flowers surrounding them as well, what would that even look like?

The chromed orbs look so happy and regal on their purple style pillars, and they even have a small pool to match. Does that make sense? It would be fun to play and splash around in the pool, but to do so would disrespect the orbs and violate the Orbland Gardens code of conduct as well. Do you understand that?

I decided to go to the pool. The pool is surrounded by flowers and leaves to match, so I had to walk through the plants to get to the pool from the walkway. Now I have leaf burns and flower burns on my legs. Ouch...

I stepped into the water and felt the burning heat from the chromed orbs looking down at me; before I knew it, the Orbland Gardens alarm started sounding, alerting the Orbland Gardens Guardsmen that I was soiling their Sunken Orb Pillar Sensorium's pool. I was quickly escorted off the premises, but not before I purchased a classic gorb in a non mechanized style from the gift shop. Please visit Orbland Gardens' New Sunken Orb Pillar Sensorium NOW!!!!!

L'M DIGGING A HOLE!

For the past 10 years I've been digging the same hole on my property. It has reached approximately 36 feet in diameter and 42 feet in depth and is growing day by day! I've had a lot of people come to me, mostly friends and family, concerned about my mental health, saying that my "obsession" with digging has become disconcerting and may be detrimental to my social life and physical wellbeing. While I understand their concerns, I've never felt happier! I just love digging and I love the dirt, I also love digging in the dirt and making a big hole with the dirt that I've dug.

Dedicating all of this time to digging has created a bit of a financial struggle for me, as I have stopped working a traditional job and have been digging my hole full-time. As a result, I am now opening my hole for public viewing at the cost of $42.36 per person. The price is calculated by the diameter and depth of the hole, which is growing with each passing day, so the earlier you stop by to take a look the cheaper it is to see my hole!

MY HOLE IS LOCATED AT 1372 PUMPERSON LANE IN CHUNT, MISSISSIPPI.

COME LOOK AT MY HOLE!

Wow that is extremely quick. About the same amount of time as something known colloquially as "the blink of an eye." I'm impressed, to say what is colloquially called "the least."

Hello everybuddy

Forgive me if this is crass but—should any of us hold out hope for a Cube Framing seminar this year before the holidays? I would really love to feel prepared for the Grinch this year.
